Is technaus a good company?

Hi Charles, Fantastic to hear your experience with Technaus and in particular Steve, has been excellent. Steve is definitely your man when it comes to sound and objective advice for a solar installation. Steve and the team don't do just one product and try and push it. Every household is different, and all customers needs can be quite varied.

Should I accept a quote from technaus?

If considering accepting a quote from Technaus, I would insist upon an installer viewing the roof and providing an opinion on panel placement and panel size before accepting the quotation. Panel location is very important in order to maximise output and unfortunately in my case this did not occur. Hi Barry, thanks for your review.
