Applied Energistics 2. Overall I find AE2 more flexible, allowing it to be used in "better" ways in more circumstances. It is more complex to be able to do that, but figuring out a solution makes me feel clever. ... Refined Storage (RS) vs Applied Energistics 2 (ME Network) vs RF Tools for complex storage system. ...

Refined storage is cheaper and simpler for storage systems that don"t require incredibly complex automation (ae2 is better for that). I haven"t gotten to the pack"s late game, but I can"t think of anything refined storage can"t do. That leaves me to suggest refined storage.

Perhaps the most telling difference is the two mods" "Block Placer" components. The RS Constructor has a single filter slot, which must be filtered in order to work, and will actively remove an item from storage and place it in the world. If you want to place a second block in the same area, you need a 2nd Constructor.
