Tokelau gruntech energy solution

Can Tokelau support itself with solar energy?
Tokelau,an island nation in the South Pacific,is now completely able to support itself with solar energy. Elly Earls met Joseph Mayhew of the New Zealand Aid Programme to find out how this tiny collection of atolls has become almost 100% self-sufficient in less than 12 months.

What is the Tokelau PV project?
The Government of Tokelau sees the PV Project as the first step and therefore trial towards the long-term goal of energy independence based on renewable energy. The project is implemented by the Government of Tokelau and funded jointly by Government of New Zealand,Government of France,UNESCO Apia and UNDP Samoa.

Where does Tokelau get its electricity from?
Except for that part of the electricity supply provided by Solar Photovoltaic (PV) to TeleTok facilities on all three atolls and the University of the South Pacific (USP) facility on Atafu,essentially all energy in Tokelau currently is from imported petroleum.

Could Tokelau be the world's first renewable nation?
Solar power plants and coconut biofuel-powered generators switched on in Tokelau has made the islands the world's first truly renewable nation.' Imagine a place where the only energy to be found is clean,reliable solar power. Solar Array's seen on the three tiny islands of Tokelau to completely produce solar power energy.

Why did Tokelau switch to solar?
Yet despite the challenges involved in installing comprehensive solar systems in such a remote location,switching to solar was absolutely crucial for the tiny collection of islands. "Tokelau's atolls are low-lying and especially susceptible to the adverse effects of climate change," Mayhew stressed.

Why is electricity so expensive in Tokelau?
Before the PowerSmart systems were installed on the nation's three atolls, Tokelau was highly dependent on imported fossil fuels to meet its energy needs and therefore vulnerable to international price fluctuations and increasing fuel costs, making electricity extremely expensive for both households and businesses.
